

Policy on Approval of Academic Courses and Events on ISEC Website

The ISEC website will host sections covering approved academic courses and approved events.

For a course to be listed the following criteria must be met.

1. A designated course leader should be identified and they should be a member of ISEC (when membership is created). Until the membership system is created they should state they agree to become a member when the system is created.
2. A statement should be made stating how the course content covers subjects related to economic criminology.
3. The institution should state how they intend to promote ISEC to their students.

The application should include the course name, course leader, institution, country and web address.

For an event to be included the following criteria must be met:

1. The relevance of the event to economic criminology
2. A statement of how ISEC will be promoted to attendees.

Any course or event approved by ISEC may display the ISEC logo.
